

MEDIA RELEASE

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5 2010

AUSTEREO NATIONAL CONTENT CHANGES

Austereo's Head of Content Craig Bruce today announced changes to the National Austereo Content team.

Dave Cameron will become Head of the Today Network, Jamie Angel will become the Triple M Network Content Director and Sam Cavanagh will take on the role of National Executive Show Producer.

Craig Bruce said, "Dave, Jamie and Sam are all incredible radio talents and some of the best in the industry. These changes will help streamline Austereo as a whole and I'm really excited about the year ahead and the changes to the Content team."

Dave Cameron has been Content Director at Fox FM for five years and has worked at Austereo stations SAFM and 2Day FM. At Fox FM, Dave has guided the station to its most successful ratings in the station's history and works closely with key shows Matt and Jo and Hamish and Andy.

Jamie Angel continues his role as Content Director at Triple M Sydney in a role he's held since 2009. Prior to that he was Content Director at 2Day FM where he worked closely on the Kyle and Jackie O Show and also at Fox FM.

Sam Cavanagh is the Executive Producer for the number one Drive team Hamish and Andy and has worked with the boys since they first started in late nights. Sam was also National Executive Show Producer for the Today Network.

For more information:

Kate Whitby

Publicity Manager – Austereo Sydney

02 9375 1503

Kate.whitby@austereo.com.au